

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Edward W. Coons of Stevens Mills fell from a load of lumber recently and broke his collar bone.

An over-heated stovepipe caused the destruction by fire of the house in Newport occupied by John Skinner.

W. E. Eastman of East Andover, N. H., has been engaged as agricultural teacher in the Richmond high school.

Albert T. Stevens, once a representative from his town and once a senator, died Friday at his home in Richmond, at the age of 82 years.

Owing to business pressure and demands arising because of the war, the better acquaintance trip of the Rutland board of trade to Portsmouth, N. H., scheduled for this week, was called off.

Miss Elizabeth Brown found a fine specimen of closed gentian (Gentiana Andrewsii) in bloom in Rutland last week. The beautiful flower is quite rare in this part of Vermont and the little girl is proud of her find.

Raymond Bridges, teacher of science in the Rutland high school, was one included in the second draft and he left for Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., to-day. He was a guest of honor at a dinner at the Hotel Barwell Monday night.

More permanent highway work is being done throughout the state now than at any previous time during the year, as the farm work is less pressing. A large number of concrete bridges have been built this year to replace the wooden ones.

Lois Belle and Mary Catherine, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wright of Shoreham, are to have a double wedding at that place Oct. 12 when they are married to William Wesley Hildreth of East Jaffrey, N. H., and Smith Seelye Reynolds of Middlebury, respectively.

William H. O'Brien died at his home in Burlington Sunday after a long illness. He was connected with the Rutland and Central Vermont railroads for 40 years and was cashier for the Central Vermont for 25 years, until his health failed him three years ago.

Medical inspection in the schools of Bennington was voted at a special meeting of the school district Saturday night. When the meeting came to order, there were 24 voters present and most of these were women. The number increased to 51 before the evening was over.

Carl Broadwell left his home in Burlington Saturday and has not been seen or heard from since. His wife is left with three small children. She has been in charge of the Montreal house in Burlington and her husband was a teamster for James E. Cashman.

Wilson, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Samson of St. Albans Town, fractured his skull Saturday in a fall from a height of 20 feet while playing in the silo. He struck on his head on the cement floor. He is at the Sherwood sanitarium and is fairly comfortable.

Mayor J. Holmes Jackson of Burlington has vetoed the resolution of the aldermen to build a $30,000 addition to the Ira Allen school. He gives as his reasons, the constant demand for war purposes the price of materials, great scarcity of labor and the lateness of the season. In closing his communication he said, "I do not think we have the right to spend so large a sum as $30,000 at the present time."

George Quackenbush, a New York importer, is to erect a $100,000 residence in Bennington, the ground having already been broken. The house is to be 175 feet long and 62 feet wide at its widest part. The first story will be of stone and the rest of wood. All the floors are to be of red birch and the principal rooms will be finished in white pine. The site of the house is 1,000 feet above sea level and commands a sweeping view of the Waiolesma river valley and the mountain peaks beyond. Mr. Quackenbush recently purchased 20 adjoining farms and thereby acquired 120 acres of land.

Gerald C. King, a native of Bellows Falls, aged 38, died recently in a New York hospital. King served in the Spanish-American war and last February enlisted in the ambulance service and went to France. He proved so efficient that he was chosen for special service in Salonika and it was there that he was stricken with paralysis of the lower limbs. Two months ago he was brought to New York and his decline had since been steady. King had been connected with several theatrical companies. One grandfather was president of Columbia college, and another was an ambassador to England. His father served in the Civil war.

SOLDIER-TEACHER HONORED

Raymond C. Bridges of Rutland Given Presents.

Rutland, Oct. 3.—The student body of the Rutland high school had an opportunity yesterday to say farewell to Raymond C. Bridges, science teacher, who left to-day for Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., to become a member of the national army. When the school assembled for the usual exercises there were expressions of good will for Mr. Bridges. Harvey R. Kingsley, president of the school board, presented the drafted man an engrossed copy of the resolutions which were passed Monday night by the board of education in his behalf, and also a check for one-half of this month's salary.

Harry Hulihan, president of the senior class of the school, presented Mr. Bridges, in behalf of the school, a wrist watch and a nurse of money.

The disappointed one—The officer comes up an says, "Which one of you boys would like to have a night out of the trenches?" I steps forward; an "e says, smile!" "Well done, my boy; you will complete the wiring party to-night."

BEEF PRICES LOWER

Quiet Demand at Brighton Stockyards—Hogs Firm and Higher.

Brighton, Mass., Oct. 3.—At the Brighton stockyards yesterday morning beef prices were again lower, with a quiet demand, but hogs were firm and higher, with a light run east and west.

The light heavy cattle of the day were brought in from the Rochester fair by Drovers Brooks and brought top prices. Fancy beef cattle sold at 11@11½c, and occasionally more, with average tops at 10@10½c, good cattle at 8@9c and light cattle at 7@7½c.

Canner cows sold at 4@4½c for low grade and 4½@5c for ordinary stock, with good cows at 5½@6c, and best cows at 7@8c, with an occasional fancy cow or heifer bringing up to 9c.

Calves were easier, fancy small lots selling at 13½@14c, with bunch lots at 12@13c.

Auction Sale

Registered and Grade Holstein Cattle, Crops and Tools

As I have sold my farm and am to leave the state soon, I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, on the premises where I now live in Northfield, Vt., near the south village, the following described personal property, to wit:

16 Head of Registered Holstein Cattle

consisting of 8 registered cows to freshen in this fall and early winter, 2-year-old heifers, 2 heifer calves, 1 5-year-old bull, 1 bull calf and 1 pair of 9-month-old steers. All this registered stock is high class and of some of the best breeding in the country. I have the papers for every one of them, that will go with the stock. Also 4 grade 2-year-old heifers, 1 grade 5-month-old heifer and 1 grade 2-year-old steer, 5 shoats weighing about 100 lbs. each; also 1-year-old stallion, Mountain King, weight 1,250 lbs., sound and kind, work in all harness, single or double, has taken first prize at all the fairs that he has attended; he sires some of the best colts in the country, is registered and the papers go with him.

FARM TOOLS AND MACHINERY

1 2-horse Auburn farm wagon, 1 heavy farm wagon with cart body, 1 set of log trucks, 1 ox cart, 2 bodies, buggy wagon, set of heavy sleds with log bunk and wood-rack, 1 heavy bobbed, 1 set of heavy work harnesses, moving machine, horse rake, hay tedder, McCormick drop-reaper, 1 St. Albans 2-horse power and saw rig, 1 St. Albans 1-horse power, 1 Gray threshing machine, 1-horse-power gas engine, sap evaporator and iron arch, 2 sugaring-off pans, 400 Brock spouts, 1 gathering tub, a quantity of milk cans, churn, butterworker, and some other dairy equipment with a lot of small farm tools, such as shovels, forks, rakes, chains, etc.

CROPS—100 tons of hay, 5 acres of corn in the shock, a quantity of potatoes, also a quantity of household furniture and many other articles too numerous to mention. I have been breeding registered Holstein cattle for some years and can recommend this stock to be right. You will also find my grade stock, tools and crops to be desirable. I am to leave for my new home in New Hampshire, as soon as this sale is over, so have no further use for this property. Sale positive. Usual terms of credit. Lunch at noon.

ESTATE OF PHILURA A. WILSON

State of Vermont, District of Washington, ss. The Honorable Probate Court for the District of Vermont, do hereby certify that the estate of Philura A. Wilson, late of Worcester, in said district deceased, GREETING:
WHEREAS said court has assigned the 18th day of October next for examining and allowing the account of the administrator of the estate of said deceased and for a decree of the residue of said estate to the lawful claimants of the same, and ordered that public notice thereof be given to all persons interested in said estate by publishing this order three weeks successively previous to the day as aforesaid in the Barre Daily Times, a newspaper published at the city of Barre, in said district;

THEREFORE, you are hereby notified to appear at the probate office in Montpelier, in said district, on the day assigned, then and there to contest the allowance of said account if you see cause, and to establish your right as heirs, legatees and lawful claimants to said residue.

Given under my hand, this 25th day of September, 1917.

FRANK J. MARTIN, Judge.

MARRIAGE QUESTIONED

There Is Doubt Whether Bride Was of Legal Age.
Brattleboro, Oct. 3.—Some circumstances surrounding the wedding of Clarence N. Grover and Miss Pearl Helen Deyo, which took place last Thursday evening at the rectory of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church, lead certain officials of Brattleboro to question the legality of the marriage.

Adin F. Miller, town clerk of East Dummerston, issued the license for the marriage to Miss Deyo last week Monday. She was accompanied by her father, Charles Deyo, and gave her age as 16 years. Acting in good faith, Rev. James P. Rand of Brattleboro performed the ceremony when requested.

Since then it has developed that a week ago Saturday evening Mr. Grover applied at the office of Carl S. Hopkins, Brattleboro town clerk, for a marriage license, which one of Mr. Hopkins' assistants started to make out. He gave this town as the residence of both parties and stated that the prospective bride's age was 15 years. As the age of consent in Vermont is 16 years, this halted the issuance of the license and then Mr. Grover said that Miss Deyo would be 16 on Nov. 15 next. He was told that it would be necessary for them to wait until then. The stub as filled out up to that point on the application is now on file at the town clerk's office.

This raises the question of the validity of the wedding on the license issued at East Dummerston, because the law specifically prescribes that if the groom is a resident of another place than where the papers are taken out he must have a license from his home town.

Town Clerk Hopkins says that if Mr. Grover is a legal resident of Brattleboro he should have taken out a license here before being married and adds that if the bride is only 15 years old as stated to his assistant when the application was made here, there has been no legal marriage between the parties.
